Preface

This Standard was prepared by the Standards Australia Committee FT-035, Food Microbiology, to supersede AS 5013.21—2004 Food microbiology, Method 21: Meat and meat products— Enumeration of Pseudomonas spp.

The objective of this Standard is to specify a method for the enumeration of presumptive Pseudomonas spp. present in meat and meat products, including poultry.

This Standard is identical with, and has been reproduced from, ISO 13720:2010, Meat and meat products — Enumeration of presumptive Pseudomonas spp.

As this document has been reproduced from an International Standard, the following applies:

- (a) In the source text ‘this International Standard’ should read ‘this Australian Standard’.
- (b) A full point substitutes for a coma when referring to a decimal marker.

Australian or Australian/New Zealand Standards that are identical adoptions of international normative references may be used interchangeably. Refer to the online catalogue for information on specific.

The terms ‘normative’ and ‘informative’ are used in Standards to define the application of the appendices or annexes to which they apply. A ‘normative’ appendix or annex is an integral part of a Standard, whereas an ‘informative’ appendix or annex is only for information and guidance.
