Full details of all Joint Standards and related publications will be found in the Standards Australia and Standards New Zealand Catalogue of Publications; this information is supplemented each month by the magazines 'The Australian Standard' and 'Standards New Zealand', which subscribing members receive, and which give details of new publications, new editions and amendments, and of withdrawn Standards.

Suggestions for improvements to Joint Standards, addressed to the head office of either Standards Australia or Standards New Zealand, are welcomed. Notification of any inaccuracy or ambiguity found in a Joint Australian/New Zealand Standard should be made without delay in order that the matter may be investigated and appropriate action taken.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Joint Standards Australia/Standards New Zealand Committee QR/10, Conformity Assessment. It is identical with, and has been reproduced from ISO/IEC Guide 61:1996, which was prepared by the ISO Committee on Conformity Assessment (CASCO).

ISO/IEC Guide 61:1996 was first published and is currently available in Australia and New Zealand as a Handbook, SAA/SNZ HB18.61, i.e. part of the Series HB18, Guidelines for third-party certification and accreditation procedures. However, Committee QR/10 considers that it should also be available as a Standard, i.e. as a normative document providing a suitable basis for certification and accreditation procedures.

As this Standard is reproduced from an international Standard, the following applies:

- (a) Its number does not appear on each page of text and its identity is shown only on the cover and title page.
- (b) In the source text 'this Guide' should read 'this Australian/New Zealand Standard'.
- (c) A full point substitutes for a comma when referring to a decimal marker.

References to International Standards should be replaced by Australian or Joint Australian/New Zealand Standards as follows:
