Guidance on Industry Standard for HVAC – Air Filters and Separators

GIS 14-022

BP GROUP
ENGINEERING TECHNICAL PRACTICES

Foreword

This is the first issue of Engineering Technical Practice (ETP) BP GIS 14-022. This Guidance on Industry Standard (GIS) is based on the following heritage documents from merged BP companies:

1. Scope

- a. This GIS provides guidance on health, safety and environmental legislation, good design practice, and technical and economic considerations for HVAC Air Filters and Separators. The design information included in this specification is not intended to cover complete details. The guideline outlines regulations, design considerations, and recommends a configuration which can be scaled to adapt to the specific facilities which can differ due to layouts and production capacity.
- b. This standard is intended to guide the purchaser in the use or creation of a fit-for-purpose specification for enquiry or purchasing activity.
- c. This document may refer to certain local, national or international regulations but the responsibility to ensure compliance with legislation and any other statutory requirements lies with the user. The user shall adapt or supplement this document to ensure compliance for the specific application.

2. Normative references

The following normative documents contain requirements that, through reference in this text, constitute requirements of this technical practice. For dated references, subsequent amendments to, or revisions of, any of these publications do not apply. However, parties to agreements based on this technical practice are encouraged to investigate the possibility of applying the most recent editions of the normative documents indicated below. For undated references, the latest edition of the normative document referred to applies.
