This Part of BS 3087 has been prepared by Technical Committee MTE/15. It is identical with ISO 5747:1995 Pliers and nippers — Lever assisted side cutting pliers, end and diagonal cutting nippers — Dimensions and test values, published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO).

This British Standard supersedes BS 3087:1986 which is withdrawn.

ISO 5743:1982	Part 3:1986 Specification for general requirements (Identical)

The Technical Committee has reviewed the provisions of ISO 5744, to which reference is made in the text, and has decided that it is acceptable for use in conjunction with this standard. A related British Standard to ISO 5744:1988 is BS 3087-4:1988 Methods of test.

It is recommended that pliers, pincers and nippers should be legibly and indelibly marked with a name, trademark or the manufacturing code that will allow traceability. BS 3087-7¹⁾ should be marked either on the tool or on its associated packaging.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
