Committees responsible for this British Standard

The preparation of this British Standard was entrusted by Technical Committee CPL 34, Lamps and related equipment, to Subcommittee CPL/34/5, Photometry and Light Classification, upon which the following bodies were represented:

- British Lighting Association for the Preparation of Standards (BRITLAPS)
- Department of Trade and Industry (National Physical Laboratory)
- GAMBICA (BEAMA Ltd.)
- Institution of Civil Engineers
- Institution of Electrical Engineers
- Lighting Industry Federation Ltd.

This British Standard, having been prepared under the direction of the Electrotechnical Sector Board, was published under the authority of the Standards Board and comes into effect on 15 December 1995

Foreword

This British Standard has been prepared by Subcommittee CPL/34/5.

Since the publication of the 1961 edition there have been changes in laboratory practice, materials availability, paint technology and other standards, which have made a full revision of this standard necessary.

Opportunity has also been taken to amend the definitions to agree with those given in CIE Publication 17.4, and the text has been aligned closely with CIE Publication 84.

NOTE Since it is not possible in this publication to cover completely the subject of Photometric Integrators, it is suggested that the text book Photometry by J.W.T. Walsh (Constable, third edition, 1958) would be of assistance in investigating the subject in greater detail.

This revision of BS 354 supersedes BS 354:1961, which is withdrawn.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
