Foreword

This British Standard has been published under the direction of the Clothing Standards Committee. This standard supersedes the first edition which was published in 1967 following requests from the building industry and local authorities and which is hereby withdrawn. In revising the specification the committee has taken the opportunity of metricating all the appropriate measurements. The sizes of jackets specified have been chosen to agree with the recommendations of PD 6473. Recommended garment and sleeve dimensions and details of optional shoulder reinforcement and/or lining materials are provided in the appendices.

Consideration was given in the revision to the provision of care labelling instructions but it was decided that this would be unnecessary since donkey jackets are seldom cleaned. However the attention of users is directed to the textile care labelling code given in BS 2747.

Certification. Attention is drawn to the certification facilities described on the inside back cover of this standard.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
