Foreword

This British Standard has been prepared under the direction of the Textiles and Clothing Standards Policy Committee and forms a revision of the 1976 edition which is withdrawn.

The principal change introduced into this revision is that BS 1932-1 is used for determination of tensile properties, and an additional method for determination of heat shrinkage using hot air has been added.

At the time of preparation of this British Standard, no corresponding International Standard exists.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
