Foreword

This British Standard has been prepared under the direction of the Information Systems Technology Standards Policy Committee and supersedes BS 4822:1980, which is withdrawn.

BS 4822:1980 was the UK implementation of ISO 2530:1975 which has been withdrawn following the publication in 1994 of Parts 1 to 7 of ISO/IEC 9995. Those International Standards have been implemented as the corresponding Parts of BS ISO/IEC 9995.

8.1 of BS ISO/IEC 9995-2:1994 permits the use of a national standard to allocate graphic characters to the keys of the alphanumeric zone of the alphanumeric section of a keyboard, and specifies requirements to be met when the characters of the Latin alphabet are allocated. This revision of BS 4822 provides such a national standard.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
