Foreword

This British Standard has been prepared under the direction of the Information and Documentation Standards Policy Committee. It supersedes BS 5605:1978, which is withdrawn.

BS 5605 was first issued in 1978 as a summary for authors and editors of the recommendations given in BS 1629:1976 for citing one published document in another, and for setting out lists of references to documents. Citation of unpublished documents is the subject of BS 6371:1983.

The 1989 revision of BS 1629 extended its scope to include documents published in forms other than print, e.g. microforms, computer software, sound recordings, as well as a wider range of document, e.g. maps, illustrations. This revision of BS 5605 incorporates corresponding changes.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
