National foreword

This Part of BS 5752 has been prepared under the direction of the Agriculture and Food Standards Policy Committee. It is identical with ISO 10095:1992 Coffee — Determination of caffeine content — Method using high-performance liquid chromatography, published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO). This Part embodies an agreement, to which the UK was a party, reached in Subcommittee 15, Coffee, of Technical Committee 34, Agricultural food products, of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO).
