National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared under the direction of the Information Systems Technology Standards Policy Committee. It is identical with ISO 9067:1987, “Information processing systems — Data communication — Automatic fault isolation procedures using test loops”, published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO).

The UK has actively participated, through BSI Technical Committee IST/6, in the development of the International Standard.

Up-to-date information on existing and projected British Standards publications for Open Systems Interconnection is included in the “Basic List”, published as part of the BSI Information Technology Service (BITS) initiative. For details contact: Marketing Department, BSI, Linford Wood, Milton Keynes, MK14 6LE.

Cross-references. The Technical Committee has reviewed the provisions of CCITT recommendations V.24, V.52, X.20, X.20*bis*, X.21, X.21*bis*, X.22, X.24 and X.150, to which reference is made in the text, and has decided that they are acceptable for use in conjunction with this standard. Copies of the relevant recommendations may be obtained from: Sales Department, BSI, Linford Wood, Milton Keynes, MK14 6LE.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
