National foreword

This British Standard is identical with EN 45001 “General criteria for the operation of testing laboratories”. It has been adopted nationally under the direction of the BSI Board Committee for Quality Policy (OC/16).

This series of standards specifies criteria which will provide the basis for confidence in facilities engaged in testing and certification. The standards will assist the process of mutual recognition between facilities, the development of national accreditation on a harmonized basis, and the nomination of facilities by Governments as required by European directives.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

This European Standard was accepted by CEN/CENELEC on 23 June 1989. CEN and CENELEC members are bound to comply with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations which stipulate the conditions for giving this European Standard the status of a national standard without any alteration.

Up-to-date lists and bibliographical references concerning such national standards may be obtained on application to the Central Secretariat or to any CEN/CENELEC member.

This European Standard exists in three official versions (English, French, German). A version in any other language made by translation under the responsibility of a CEN/CENELEC member into its own language and notified to the Central Secretariat has the same status as the official versions.

CEN/CENELEC members are the national standards organizations and national electrotechnical committees, respectively, of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and United Kingdom.
