Cooperating organizations

The European Committee for Standardization (CEN), under whose supervision this European Standard was prepared, comprises the national standards organizations of the following countries:

Austria	Oesterreichisches Normungsinstitut
Belgium	Institut belge de normalisation
Denmark	Dansk Standard
Finland	Suomen Standardisoimisliito, r.y.
France	Association française de normalisation
Germany	Deutsches Institut für Normung e.V.
Greece	Hellenic Organization for Standardization
Iceland	Technological Institute of Iceland
Ireland	National Standards Authority of Ireland
Italy	Ente Nazionale Italiano di Unificazione
Luxembourg	Inspection du Travail et des Mines
Netherlands	Nederlands Normalisatie-instituut
Norway	Norges Standardiseringsforbund
Portugal	Instituto Português da Qualidade
Spain	Asociación Española de Normalización y Certificación
Sweden	Standardiseringskommissionen i Sverige
Switzerland	Association suisse de normalisation
United Kingdom	British Standards Institution

This British Standard, having been prepared under the direction of the Consumer Products and Services Sector Board, was published under the authority of the Standards Board and comes into effect on January 1995

National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared under the direction of the Consumer Products and Services Sector Board and is the English language version of EN 1140:1994 Fruit and vegetable juices — Enzymatic determination of D-glucose and D-fructose content — NADPH spectrometric method, published by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN). EN 1140 was produced as a result of international discussions in which the United Kingdom took an active part.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

This European Standard was approved by CEN on 1994-09-29. CEN members are bound to comply with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations which stipulate the conditions for giving this European Standard the status of a national standard without any alteration.

Up-to-date lists and bibliographical references concerning such national standards may be obtained on application to the Central Secretariat or to any CEN member.

The European Standard exists in three official versions (English, French, German). A version in any other language made by translation under the responsibility of a CEN member into its own language and notified to the Central Secretariat has the same status as the official versions.

CEN members are the national standards bodies of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and United Kingdom.
