National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared by Technical Committee IST/14 and is the English language version of EN 1681 : 1995 EDI — Message — Delivery just in time message (DELJIT), published by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN).

This British Standard is published under the direction of the Information Systems Technology Assembly whose Technical Committee IST/14 has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible international/European committee any enquiries on interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

NOTE. International and European Standards, as well as overseas standards, are available from Customer Services, BSI, 389 Chiswick High Road, London W4 4AL.

Textual error. When implementing this European Standard, a textual error was noticed in the text relating to the LOC Segment of Segment Group 4 which has been reported to the European Board for EDI Standardization.

Following a discussion at the Technical Coordinating Committee of the European Board for EDI Standardization, the committee reaffirmed its original decision that the UN/EDIFACT directories currently transposed to CEN ENs are considered frozen and no additional maintenance on these directories should be performed.

For the convenience of the user of this standard the proposed corrected text is reproduced below.

‘LOC, Place location identification

A segment group identifying a general location to which products, as described in Segment Group 5, should be delivered’.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

This European Standard was approved by CEN on 1995-05-27. CEN members are bound to comply with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations which stipulate the conditions for giving this European Standard the status of a national standard without any alteration.

Up-to-date lists and bibliographical references concerning such national standards may be obtained on application to the Central Secretariat or to any CEN member.

This European Standard exists in three official versions (English, French, German). A version in any other language made by translation under the responsibility of a CEN member into its own language and notified to the Central Secretariat has the same status as the official versions.

CEN members are the national standards bodies of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and United Kingdom.
