National foreword

This British Standard is the English language version of EN 1838:1999. Together with BS 5266-1:1999, it supersedes BS 5266-1:1988 which is withdrawn.

This standard gives details of the UK A deviations in annex B and should be read in conjunction with BS 5266-1:1999.

The UK participation in its preparation was entrusted to Technical Committee CPL/34/9, Emergency lighting, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

A list of organizations represented on this committee can be obtained on request to its secretary.

Cross-references

The British Standards which implement international or European publications referred to in this document may be found in the BSI Standards Catalogue under the section entitled “International Standards Correspondence Index”, or by using the “Find” facility of the BSI Standards Electronic Catalogue.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

Foreword

This European Standard has been prepared by Technical Committee CEN/TC 169, Light and lighting, the Secretariat of which is held by DIN.

This European Standard shall be given the status of a national standard, either by publication of an identical text or by endorsement, at the latest by October 1999, and conflicting national standards shall be withdrawn at the latest by October 1999.

According to the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations, the national standards organizations of the following countries are bound to implement this European Standard: Austria, Belgium, Czech Republic, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

It is intended to replace in part national standards relating to emergency lighting luminous requirements. It should be read in conjunction with the standards being produced by CEN/TC 169 WG7, Measurement and presentation of photometric data, and in conjunction with prEN 50172 Emergency escape lighting systems.

Users of this EN, prepared in the field of application of Article 118 A of the EC Treaty, should be aware that standards have no formal legal relationship with Directives which may have been made under Article 118 A of the Treaty. In addition, national legislation in the Member states may contain more stringent requirements than the minimum requirements of a Directive based on Article 118 A. Information on the relationship between the national legislation implementing Directives based on Article 118 A and this EN may be given in a national foreword of the national standard implementing this EN.
