National foreword

This British Standard is the English language version of EN 326-3:1998.
The UK participation in its preparation was entrusted to Technical Committee B/541, Wood based panels, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

A list of organizations represented on this committee can be obtained on request to its secretary.

This is one of three standards dealing with the sampling, cutting and inspection of wood-based panels; the other two being:

- EN 326-1 Wood-based panels — Sampling cutting and inspection — Part 1: Sampling and cutting of test pieces and expression of test results;
- EN 326-2 Wood-based panels — Sampling, cutting and inspection — Part 2: Quality control in the factory.

These three standards provide sampling plans and statistical procedures for verifying compliance with all the EN specifications for wood-based panels, under the chosen method of assessment given in the title of the separate part standards. These Part standards fulfil the same function to this group of ENs as BS 6566 : Part 3 and the relevant clauses of BS 1142 and BS 5669 : Parts 1 to 4. However the procedures are fundamentally different and they cannot be used as alternatives to the existing British Standards.

This standard, together with a number of other ENs, will form a series of BS ENs in the field of wood-based panels superseding BS 1142, BS 5669 and BS 6566 which are at present obsolescent and will eventually be withdrawn.
