National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared by Technical Committee PSM/35 and is the English language version of EN 469:1995 Protective clothing for firefighters — Requirements and test methods for protective clothing for firefighting, published by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN).

EN 469 was produced as a result of international discussions in which the United Kingdom took an active part.

The BSI Technical Committee responsible for the standard has decided to promulgate its interpretation of the “limited area which has a lower level of heat protection” referred to in the introduction of the standard in the additional National annex NC.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
