

Lead-acid traction batteries —

Part 2: Dimensions of cells and terminals and marking of polarity on cells

The European Standard EN 60254-2:1997, with the incorporation of
A1:2001, has the status of a British Standard

ICS 29.220.20

National foreword

This British Standard is the English language version of EN 60254-2:1997. It is identical with IEC 60254-2:1997, Edition 3.1:2000, which comprises Edition 3:1997 consolidated by the incorporation of amendment 1:2000. It supersedes BS 2550:1983 which is withdrawn.

The UK participation in its preparation was entrusted to Technical Committee PEL/21, Secondary cells and batteries, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible international/European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

A list of organizations represented on this committee can be obtained on request to its secretary.

Cross-references

Attention is drawn to the fact that Annex ZA lists normative references to international publications with their corresponding European publications.

The British Standards which implement international or European publications referred to in this document may be found in the BSI Catalogue under the section entitled “International Standards Correspondence Index”, or by using the “Search” facility of the BSI Electronic Catalogue or of British Standard Online.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

This European Standard was approved by CENELEC on 1997-03-11. Amendment A1:2000 was approved by CENELEC on 2000-06-01. CENELEC members are bound to comply with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations which stipulate the conditions for giving this European Standard the status of a national standard without any alteration.

Up-to-date lists and bibliographical references concerning such national standards may be obtained on application to the Central Secretariat or to any CENELEC member.

This European Standard exists in three official versions (English, French, German). A version in any other language made by translation under the responsibility of a CENELEC member into its own language and notified to the Central Secretariat has the same status as the official versions.

CENELEC members are the national electrotechnical committees of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and United Kingdom.
