National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared under the direction of the Electrotechnical Sector Board and is the English language version of EN 60598-2-3:1994, Luminaires. Part 2-3: Particular requirements — Luminaires for road and street lighting including its corrigendum: 1994 and Amendments A1:1997 and A2:2001, published by the European Committee for Electrotechnical Standardization (CENELEC). It is identical with IEC 60598-2-3:1993, second edition including amendments 1:1997 and 2:2000, published by the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC).

This British Standard is to be read in conjunction with the latest edition of BS EN 60598-1 Luminaires. Part 1: General requirements and tests (together with all its current amendments) which it supplements or modifies. The many references to Part 1 should be read as references to BS EN 60598-1 which is the English language version of EN 60598-1 which was derived from IEC 598-1:1992, third edition.

The foreword of the European Standard makes reference to the “date of withdrawal”, dow, of the relevant national standard. In this case the relevant national standard is BS 4533-102.3:1990 which was withdrawn on 1 March 1995. Certificates and marks will not be awarded after this date with respect to the withdrawn British Standard. However such certificates and marks, already awarded, may continue to apply to production until 1 March 2000.

The foreword of Amendment A1 to EN 60598-2-3 makes reference to “date of withdrawal” (dow) of conflicting national standards” as 1998-01-01. In this case the relevant national standard is BS EN 60598-2-3:1994 including corrigendum May 1996 but the date of withdrawal relates only to those parts of the British Standard subject to Amendment A1. Certificates and marks will not be awarded after this date with respect to the British Standard not incorporating Amendment A1. They will be awarded only to the amended British Standard. However, such certificates and marks already awarded with respect to the British Standard not incorporating Amendment A1 may continue to apply for production until 2003-01-01.

Product certification. Users of this British Standard are advised to consider the desirability of third party certification of product conformity with this British Standard based on testing and continuing surveillance, which may be coupled with assessment of a supplier’s quality systems against the appropriate standard in the BS EN ISO 9000 Series¹⁾.

Enquiries as to the availability of third party certification schemes are forwarded by BSI to the Association of British Certification Bodies. If a third party certification scheme does not already exist, users should consider approaching an appropriate body from the list of Association members.

Cross references

The British Standards which implement international or European publications referred to in this document may be found in the BSI Standards Catalogue under the section entitled “International Standards Correspondence Index”, or by using the “Find” facility of the BSI Standards Electronic Catalogue.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
