Committees responsible for this British Standard

The preparation of this British Standard was entrusted to Technical Committee GEL/10, Fluids for electrotechnical applications, upon which the following bodies were represented:

- British Cable Makers Confederation
- British Lubricants Federation Limited
- Chemical Industries Association
- Electricity Association
- Health and Safety Executive
- Institute of Petroleum
- Institution of Electrical Engineers
- London Regional Transport
- National Association of Waste Disposal Contractors
- Transmission and Distribution Association (BEAMA Ltd.)

This British Standard, having been prepared under the direction of the Electrotechnical Sector Board, was published under the authority of the Standards Board and comes into effect on 15 June 1995

National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared by Technical Committee GEL/10 and is the English language version of EN 61203:1994 Synthetic organic esters for electrical purposes — Guide for maintenance of transformer esters in equipment, published by the European Committee for Electrotechnical Standardization (CENELEC). It is identical with IEC 1203:1992, published by the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC).

WARNING. This British Standard calls for the use of substances and procedures that may be injurious to health if adequate precautions are not taken. It refers only to technical suitability and does not absolve the user from legal obligations relating to health and safety at any stage.
