

Methods of test for masonry units —

Part 16: Determination of dimensions

The European Standard EN 772-16:2000, with the incorporation of amendments A1:2004 and A2:2005, has the status of a British Standard

ICS 91.100.30

National foreword

This British Standard is the official English language version of EN 772-16:2000, including amendments A1:2004 and A2:2005 (and the CEN letter of correction October 2004), which is included in a package of new European Standards being prepared by CEN/TC 125 relating to masonry units made from clay, calcium silicate, aggregate concrete, manufactured stone and natural stone. Although the English language versions of these European Standards will be adopted as British Standards as they become available, the existing British Standards for masonry units will be retained, but only until such time that the complete package of European Standards becomes available. Any residue(s) from British Standards affected by the package which need to be retained will be drawn together for form a new British Standard. The original group of British Standards will then be withdrawn and this will be notified in Update Standards.

The start and finish of text introduced or altered by amendment is indicated in the text by tags A1 A1. Tags indicating changes to CEN text carry the number of the CEN amendment. For example, text altered by CEN amendment A1 is indicated by A1 A1.

The UK participation in its preparation was entrusted by Technical Committee B/519, Masonry and associated testing, to Subcommittee B/519/1, Masonry units, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

A list of organizations represented on this subcommittee can be obtained on request to its secretary.
