National foreword

This British Standard has been prepared by Technical Committee PSE/7 and is identical to EN ISO 5210:1996, Industrial valves — Multi-turn valve actuator attachments published by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN). It is identical with ISO 5210:1991 published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO). The standard was produced as the result of international discussions in which the United Kingdom took an active part.

Together with BS EN ISO 5211:2001, this British Standard supersedes BS 5840-1:1980 and BS 5840-2:1982, which are withdrawn.

The UK participation in its preparation was entrusted by Technical Committee PSE/7, Valves, to Subcommittee PSE/7/1, Valves — Basic standards, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible international/European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

A list of organizations represented on this committee can be obtained on request to its secretary.

This European Standard was approved by CEN on 1995-10-20. CEN members are bound to comply with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations which stipulate the conditions for giving this European Standard the status of a national standard without any alteration.

Up-to-date lists and bibliographical references concerning such national standards may be obtained on application to the Central Secretariat or to any CEN member.

This European Standard exists in three official versions (English, French, German). A version in any other language made by translation under the responsibility of a CEN member into its own language and notified to the Central Secretariat has the same status as the official versions.

CEN members are the national standards bodies of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and United Kingdom.
