National foreword

This Section of BS 6828 has been prepared under the direction of the Health Care Standards Policy Committee and is identical with ISO 7711-2:1992 Dental rotary instruments — Diamond instruments — Part 2: Discs prepared within Technical Committee 106, Dentistry, of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) with the active participation of the UK.

In 1995 the European Committee for Standardization (CEN) accepted ISO 7711-2:1992 as European Standard EN ISO 7711-2:1995. As a consequence of implementing the European Standard this British Standard is renumbered as BS EN ISO 7711-2:1996 and any reference to BS 6828-6.2:1993 should be read as a reference to BS EN ISO 7711-2:1996.

BS 6828-6 consists of the following Sections published under the general title Dental rotary instruments: Diamond instruments.

- Section 6.1: Specification for diamond instruments;
- Section 6.2: Specification for discs;
- Section 6.3: Specification for grit sizes, designation and colour code.

BS 6828-6:1987 Specification for diamond instruments covers shapes and main dimensions and is considered as Section 6.1 of this series. The number and title have not been changed as this standard will be considered by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN) for adoption as a European Standard.

The Technical Committee has reviewed the provisions of ISO 1791-1:1992 and ISO 6360-2:1986/AMD 1:1991, to which normative reference is made in the text, and has decided that they are acceptable for use in conjunction with this standard.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
