Foreword

This British Standard, which has been prepared under the direction of the Aerospace Standards Policy Committee, is one of a series of standards for textiles of a quality suitable for aerospace purposes. This standard includes polyester sewing threads previously defined in Ministry of Defence Specification UK/AID/971 which is withdrawn. It differs from UK/AID/971 Issue 1 in that alternative thread constructions are permitted, and additional thread constructions are included. The applicable basic quality requirements specified in BS F 100 have been identified.

The quality assurance authority referred to in this standard is as stated in the contract or order, or the accredited representative of the authority stated as instructed by the prime contractors.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
