The European Standard EN 29529-2:1991 has the status of a
British Standard

Committees responsible for this British Standard

The preparation of this British Standard was entrusted by the Information Technology Systems Standards Policy Committee (IST/-) to Technical Committee IST/4, upon which the following bodies were represented:

- British Computer Society
- British Telecommunications plc
- Department of Trade and Industry (National Physical Laboratory)
- EEA (the Electronics and Business Equipment Association)
- HM Customs and Excise
- Institute of Quality Assurance
- Institution of Electrical Engineers
- Institution of Mechanical Engineers
- Post Office

This British Standard, having been prepared under the direction of the Information Technology Systems Standards Policy Committee, was published under the authority of the Board of BSI and comes into effect on 28 October 1990

National foreword

This British Standard reproduces verbatim ISO/IEC 9529-2:1989 and implements it as the UK national standard.

ISO/IEC 9529-2:1989 was accepted as a European Standard by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN) in November 1991. This European Standard is designated EN 29529-2:1991 and is entitled “Information processing systems — Data interchange on 90 mm (3,5 in) flexible disk cartridges using modified frequency modulation recording at 15 916 ftprad, on 80 tracks on each side — Part 2: Track format”.

This British Standard is published under the direction of the Information Technology Systems Standards Policy Committee whose Technical Committee IST/4 has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible international committee any enquiries on interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

NOTE International and European Standards, as well as overseas standards, are available from BSI Sales Department, BSI, Linford Wood, Milton Keynes, MK 14 6LE.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

This European Standard was approved by CEN on 1991-11-16. CEN members are bound to comply with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations which stipulate the conditions for giving this European Standard the status of a national standard without any alteration.

Up-to-date lists and bibliographical references concerning such national standards may be obtained on application to the Central Secretariat or to any CEN member.

This European Standard exists in three official versions (English, French, German). A version in any other language made by translation under the responsibility of a CEN member into its own language and notified to the Central Secretariat has the same status as the official versions.

CEN members are the national standards bodies of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and United Kingdom.
