FOREWORD

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 2891-1977, the second edition of this International Standard, has been drawn up by Technical Committee ISO/TC 39, Machine tools, and contains the modifications which were circulated, in the form of an amendment, to the member bodies in July 1976.

This amendment has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	India	Spain
Austria	Italy	Switzerland
Belgium	Korea, Rep. of	United Kingdom
Brazil	Mexico	U.S.S.R.
