FOREWORD

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 387 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 48, Laboratory glassware and related apparatus, and was circulated to the member bodies in May 1976.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	India	Poland
Austria	Ireland	Romania
Belgium	Israel	South Africa, Rep. of
Canada	Italy	Spain
Chile	Korea, Rep. of	Turkey
France	Mexico	United Kingdom
Germany	Netherlands	U.S.A.
Hungary	Philippines	U.S.S.R.

The member body of the following country expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds :

Czechoslovakia

This International Standard cancels and replaces ISO Recommendation R 387-1964, of which it constitutes a technical revision.
