BRIEF HISTORY

The ISO Recommendation R 567, Determination of the Bulk Density of Coke in a Small Container, was drawn up by Technical Committee ISO/TC 27, Solid Mineral Fuels, the Secretariat of which is held by the British Standards Institution (BSI).

Work on this question by the Technical Committee began in 1955 and led, in 1963, to the adoption of a Draft ISO Recommendation.

In March 1964, this Draft ISO Recommendation (No.684) was circulated to all the ISO Member Bodies for enquiry. It was approved, subject to a few modifications of an editorial nature, by the following Member Bodies:

Australia	France	Republic of South Africa
Austria	Germany	Romania
Belgium	India	Switzerland
Brazil	Italy	Turkey
Canada	Japan	U.A.R.
Chile	Korea, Rep. of	United Kingdom
Colombia	Netherlands	U.S.A.
Czechoslovakia	New Zealand	U.S.S.R.
Denmark	Poland

No Member Body opposed the approval of the Draft.

The Draft ISO Recommendation was then submitted by correspondence to the ISO Council, which decided, in April 1967, to accept it as an ISO RECOMMENDATION.
