BRIEF HISTORY

The ISO Recommendation R 897, Identification of the emulsion side of edge-marked roll film for still picture cameras, was drawn up by Technical Committee ISO/TC 42, Photography, the Secretariat of which is held by the United States of America Standards Institute (USASI).

Work on this question by the Technical Committee began in 1961 and led, in 1964, to the adoption of a Draft ISO Recommendation.

In July 1965, this Draft ISO Recommendation (No. 830) was circulated to all the ISO Member Bodies for enquiry. It was approved, subject to a few modifications of an editorial nature, by the following Member Bodies :

Argentina	France	Sweden
Belgium	Germany	U.A.R.
Brazil	Greece	United Kingdom
Canada	Hungary	U.S.A.
Chile	Italy	U.S.S.R.
Czechoslovakia	Poland

No Member Body opposed the approval of the Draft.

The Draft ISO Recommendation was then submitted by correspondence to the ISO Council, which decided, in December 1968, to accept it as an ISO RECOMMENDATION.
