Foreword

This translation has been made based on the original Japanese Industrial Standard revised by the Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry through deliberations at the Japanese Industrial Standards Committee as the result of proposal for revision of Japanese Industrial Standard submitted by Japan Textile Evaluation Technology Council (JTETC)/Japanese Standards Association (JSA) with the draft being attached, based on the provision of Article 12 Clause 1 of the Industrial Standardization Law applicable to the case of revision by the provision of Article 14.

Consequently JIS L 1907: 2004 is replaced with this Standard.

This JIS document is protected by the Copyright Law.

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some parts of this Standard may conflict with a patent right, application for a patent after opening to the public, utility model right or application for registration of utility model after opening to the public which have technical properties. The relevant Minister and the Japanese Industrial Standards Committee are not responsible for identifying the patent right, application for a patent after opening to the public, utility model right or application for registration of utility model after opening to the public which have the said technical properties.

Testing methods for water absorbency of textiles

Introduction

This Japanese Industrial Standard was established in 1994 and has gone through 2 revisions to this day. The last revision was made in 2004, and the revision at this time is for the purpose of resolving some of the technical issues that have been present since the last revision.

Further, no International Standard corresponding to this Standard has been established at this point.

1 Scope

This Standard specifies the testing methods for water absorbency of textiles.

2 Normative references
