SECTION 211

PERMANENT WAY DESIGN

NOTES TO SPECIFIER:

These notes do not form part of the Specification.

Design status 211.1 This Section of the Specification has been derived assuming that the feasibility study has been carried out and approval in principle to the outline design has been given by Railtrack.

Any conditions appertaining to the Approval in principle should be included in the Particular Specification.

Design of signalling and electrical components 211.2 The Specifier should determine in consultation with the appropriate Zonal Engineer in the discipline the relevant standards, specifications and drawings, and a list of such documents with relevant requirements should be included in the following Sections as applicable:

Section 222: Signalling Interface with the Permanent Way
Section 223: Electrification Interface with the Permanent Way
Section 224: Electrical and Plant Interface with the Permanent Way
Section 228: Particular Specification for Signalling and Electrification Interface
