APPENDIX A

Our duties

- A1 The CAA is an independent economic regulator. Our duties in relation to the economic regulation of airport operation services (“AOS”), including capacity expansion, are set out in the CAA12.
- A2 CAA12 gives the CAA a general (“primary”) duty, to carry out its functions under CAA12 in a manner which it considers will further the interests of users of air transport services regarding the range, availability, continuity, cost and quality of AOS.
- A3 CAA12 defines users of air transport services as present and future passengers and those with a right in property carried by the service (i.e. cargo owners). We often refer to these users by using the shorthand of “consumers”.
- A4 The CAA must also carry out its functions, where appropriate, in a manner that will promote competition in the provision of AOS.
- A5 In discharging this primary duty, the CAA must also have regard to a range of other matters specified in the CAA12. These include:
- the need to secure that each licensee is able to finance its licensed activities;
 - the need to secure that all reasonable demands for AOS are met;
 - the need to promote economy and efficiency on the part of licensees in the provision of AOS;
 - the need to secure that the licensee is able to take reasonable measures to reduce, control and/or mitigate adverse environmental effects;
 - any guidance issued by the Secretary of State or international obligation on the UK notified by the Secretary of State; and
 - the Better Regulation principles.
- A6 CAA12 also sets out the circumstances in which we can regulate airport operators through an economic licence. In particular, airport operators must be subject to economic regulation where they fulfil the Market Power Test as set out in CAA12. Airport operators that do not fulfil the Test are not subject to economic regulation. As a result of the market power determinations we completed in 2014 both HAL and GAL are subject to economic regulation.

- A7 We are only required to update these determinations if we are requested to do so and there has been a material change in circumstances since the most recent determination. We may also undertake a market power determination whenever we consider it appropriate to do so.
