1. Introduction

- 1.1 CAA International would like to announce the availability of this training course title in Compliance Monitoring Systems for FSTDs.

2. Scope

- 2.1 This 2 day course provides an introduction to Compliance Monitoring Systems (CMS) as applied to the management and operation of FSTDs qualified to European regulatory standards. Similarities between Quality Management Systems (QMS) and Compliance Monitoring System are discussed, and how a Compliance Monitoring System fits within an overall management system required for the operation of FSTDs. This course examines the CMS requirements for FSTD operation and explores in depth, the main features expected of an effective compliance monitoring system that is compliant with current European regulatory standards.
- 2.2 By the end of the course delegates will demonstrate understanding of the following through facilitated discussion and practical exercises:
- Benefits of an effective quality system
 - Differences between quality assurance and quality control
 - Elements needed in an effective FSTD specific quality system
 - Expectations of the regulators when assessing or auditing QMS
- 2.3 Participants may also be interested in attending the Technical Evaluation for Flight Simulation Training Devices (FSTD) training course.
